

LA Unscripted | July 20th, 2022

<https://silosolo.com/479036>

Summary

The video features different local attractions and activities. Fly High in Altadena is an adventure park offering trampolines, a ninja course, wipe out, zip line, and a soft play area. Parents love it because their kids can play freely without worries, and parents also have access to AC and Wi-Fi. There are special times for special needs kids, as well as daily deals and a membership option. Romeo Escobar, a cast member from Survivor season 42, shares his experience of getting cast on the show and confirms that toilet paper is banned. Gary Myers discusses Junk Tramp, a group of people doing trampoline tricks. Olivia de Bartoli jumps out of a plane with the US Navy's elite parachute team, the Leap Frogs, and describes the adrenaline rush and excitement of skydiving. The Leap Frogs make a historic landing on Huntington Beach.

Silo sample questions

- What activities are available at Fly High in Altadena?
- Why do parents love Fly High for their kids?
- What special times does Fly High offer for special needs kids?
- What is Romeo Escobar's experience with Survivor?
- What is Junk Tramp and how was it created?

Topics

Fly High Adventure Park

Survivor season 42

Junk Tramp

US Navy Leap Frogs

Key Takeaways

- Fly High in Altadena is an adventure park with trampolines, a ninja course, wipe out, zip line, and soft play area.
- Parents love this kind of play for their kids because it allows them to be free and play without any worries. Parents also get to enjoy the AC and Wi-Fi at the park.
- Fly High offers special times for special needs kids and has daily deals and a membership option.
- Romeo Escobar, a cast member from Survivor season 42, shares his experience of getting cast on the show and confirms that toilet paper is banned.
- Gary Myers, a trampolinist, talks about the thrill of trampoline tricks and the creation of Junk Tramp.

Click here for the full transcript

Click here for the source