Summary

The transcript covers multiple topics including the California Surf Museum, Makers Mess, tie-dye projects, freezing eggs for fertility, and fertility experts. The California Surf Museum is a collection of surf history artifacts and they have the first surfing trophy ever made. Makers Mess is a creative art space in LA that offers workshops and a summer camp, with tie-dye projects being their specialty. Freezing eggs for fertility purposes should be done earlier in life as the chances decrease with age. Fertility experts can assist individuals and couples, including celebrities, on their journey to becoming parents.
